

Law, Order, Chaos Time and Evolutionary Motion

Justice is blinded. She sees in the Dark.

Discipline is shock treatment, some sort of torture for going into forbidden places provided by ‘the law’; laws of man. “In any case, frequent punishments are a sign of weakness or slackness in the government. There is no man so bad that he cannot be made good for something. No man should be put to death, even as an example, if he can be left to live without danger to society.” ~ Rousseau

‘If’ he can be left to live without danger to Society.

They slay to step into consciousness, to project a ‘reality’ created of conscious mind. They decide river needs a straight and narrow channel. Linear movement. Flow can adapt to linear. Linear can neither see nor switch to natural flow. If they could, they’d see, river makes its own way, decides its own course of least resistance, watershed working with lay of the land, to feed and nurture all, not controlled by few. But they have Holy-holonomic-wholonomic amnesia.

Some myths say every thousand years, millennium, new dragon hatches or wakes into next stage of development. Transformation requires deep concentration. According to the Chinese, the only time a dragon is unable to transform is during birth, sleep, feeling lustful or when angry. Modern society keeps us constantly occupied, distracted – with those same activities – so we don’t have time, energy or will to transform and ascend. We should not have to spend time off recuperating from time we spend Making a Living.

If we keep trying to ‘sell’ the truth, we will continue distorting it beyond belief. We’ve lost the difference between making a living and ‘selling out’. Those who need this info the most – who they call Work Force – cannot afford monetary separative forces we continue to uphold. Family is divided because society is divided. Atoms are divided, because we figured out how to divide them; with bad intention and results.

He stole it All, and uses Value of Power and Symbols to enhance His Values, to make himself King, to control All Values within His realm. They’ve stolen All the Power and Symbols, to put to selfish use. ‘That’s just the way it is’, is not acceptable, is not ‘just’. In laws of the universe there must be justice, justness. We throw it out of balance to readjust any one way. The whiplash throws us out of ad-just-ment. Do we truly want to be in a state of sublaxation? The I Ching refers to justice as correctness.

As planetary bodies formed chaos ensued, before ‘Time’ was, as these erratic satellites had no rhythm, no destiny in their orbits. There were collisions, and ‘wars’ as their gravities pushed and pulled at each other. Original chaos, before Time was. Chaos, a tremendous space containing night, the place of dreams.

After the great collision that broke her away from the Matrix left her lifeless and still; in sleep of death a dream began, life from the ocean womb of her being. As Earth, received a fixed orbit, her moon and destiny, time began, days and nights began, seasons woke with tilt of her polar axis as she turned spinning around the Sun.

One complete revolution of heaven makes a day.

Dragon has 365 ribs, one for each day of the year. The Oroborus bites its own tail as beginning devours end. Time is circular in nature, seasons go round. Early cultures knew, being more observant of its passing, before Monotheists came forcing submission, dictating their own versions of law, order, chaos, and time; sans evolutionary motion.

HisStory; records of time of human development. Mythology is our true history, our story thru eons of sentient being, all cultures, all times of human habitation on this planet and beyond before time we think we remember.

A pair of bumper stickers driving around Boulder, CO: 'The reason for time is' . . . 'so everything doesn't happen at once.'

Neanderthals vanished 30,000 years ago. Strongest of them could lift maybe half a ton. Some early myths talk of stupid giants used to build monuments. Not accepting earlier forms of religious experience does not make them stupid. Another unwarranted example of how mythologies deemed them stupid is that they engaged their prey in direct combat, animal to animal, eye to eye; not stupid, but very brave. We successors, hurl projectiles with increasingly more destructive potential, killing from a distance, farther and farther away, all the way to Star Wars. Modern killing has no connection, is 'remote'.

Venus of Laussel

Goddess figurines appeared 29,000 to 20,000 years ago. They were found over a large area and passed from tribe to tribe.

10,000 years ago in Middle East there was a change from Hunter-Gatherer to agriculture and goat farming. 9,000 years ago we manufactured plaster for shelters. 7,000 years ago settlements were abandoned for lack of fuel; we moved from wood to animal dung, having used up local forests, procreating more population than immediate surroundings could sustain. 200 years ago Industrial Revolution created modern world, market society. We have outlawed wood fires in many communities but drive vehicles depending on fossil fuels. What's more unnatural, a wood fire, or automobile? We are told polluting particles are larger in wood smoke, making them more dangerous. Perhaps larger particles, being heavier, settle quickly, more easily to the purifying earth, not so readily absorbed by these organisms we call our bodies. Perhaps smaller particle is equally, if not more, dangerous, infiltrating imperceptibly, harder to see. Who do we 'believe'; who do we trust, and why?

Existence as human being on a planet in a solar system, in a galaxy in a universe, a multi-verse even, is the most fantastic and amazing concept any one or any thing could ever dream of and bring to birth. But child-like wonder has waned and temporarily disappeared into some void, black hole, because questions are treated with suspicion, anger and silence throwing the child into a dark chaotic pit of confusion. Personal evolution comes to a stand still as they proceed to beat their heads against a wall of hypocrisy and lies. Hopes and yearnings prove 'too idealistic'. Gripped by hero archetype, travel and quest to find lost meaning once so abundant. But every where looks the same: Gas stations; Convenience stores; Shopping malls; Pollution; Developments; on and on down the ‘high’(?)way of life.

Reaching crisis point; life no longer has meaning. Consciousness apparently no longer evolves. Meaning and evolving consciousness are inseparably interwoven dimensions. More fully you evolve, more meaning full life becomes; the less, the more meaning less. Chaos appears when imbalance threatens to destroy big picture by focusing on only one fragment of reality; uniformitarianism; but reality has numerous parts and semblances, several varieties of peoples and other living things, each with its own perception of reality. This is a Law of Life.

Examples from international sources of corporate and public symbols invariably depict humans as bodies with disconnected heads and no faces. Few humanoids notice; their own faceless heads being much as depicted. They don’t want to think about it.

THINK ABOUT IT!

We developed too many dangers. No one wants to think anymore. No one wants to ‘Stop, Look and Listen’. They trust signs to tell them ‘walk’ or ‘don’t walk’; and having not stopped, looked nor listened they don’t see the bike that didn’t see the red light and runs them down. Just Think. That could have been a car ... or a Wild Beast.

The night is a beautiful part of the day, but we can not enter and enjoy it within the walls of the City due to human predators.

Evolution of consciousness goes on all the time, noticed or not. Psychological pain and anguish, result of not consciously participating in evolutionary process. ‘Choices’ run contrary to wiser source within, suggesting other avenues of exploration, alternative ways and values. Everything is meant to be, but knowing this helps little when one is being breathed upon heavily by the dragon with its fiery breath. We believe it prefers napping like a cat. But we are waking, disturbing it; irritating it.

Mediation theme of the dragon myth, at the core essence, Longing of the Dream of the Heart of psyche at the depths of our sentient Being. Dragon rears its head only when extreme reaction to imbalance is necessary to regain equilibrium. It eats its own tail; Revolution. Alpha Omega.

To be reborn, or born again, one first must die. For consciousness to evolve it must first submerge its Self into depths of meaning. Fortunately, a pendulum swings both ways and we come out the other side of a threshold, gateway, and remember tunnel vision, birth canal. We step out into the dawn of a new age, but there are moments before, and moments after. Little by little Life Force starts to move again. Meanings and Symbols are present in most mundane experience. Changing view of mundane changes view of Sacred. View changed in Boulder, Colorado, before it sold out. The journey is not unique; ancient process of evolution of consciousness as it dies to itself, is reborn to itself. We on collective human level are at a crisis point in this world between dying and becoming again, to emerge a peaceful world community fulfilling a divine plan laid down many ages ago. In the beginning, since memory began... memory before time was.

Another bumper sticker driving around Boulder, 'Evolution is Fact, God is a Theory.' Mind formed to organize the ever changing chaos of possibilities.

Break down pitiful doors of human invention. Humans can now do only one thing with Dragon's breath; engulf themselves in the flame, burn and be transformed; or lash out in fear, burn in their toxic fumes anyway, and go up in smoke. Dragon's fiery breath is catharsis for accumulated conditioning; also built in protection for Mother Earth against the onslaught of pollution, our poisoning of environment around us, brought on by unbalanced patriarchal domination tactics. Dragon's breath is a power in the universe, such as 'Wrath of God'. It is Universe projecting and interjecting. It is onward motion of root of power and root of force. Dragon's breath will trim ego-shell to a point of raw sensitivity. It will blast away the hard shell of ignorance we have imposed upon our selves and all living things. The meek shall inherit the earth. What's left of it!

Chaos is a most massive jig saw puzzle, dissolving boundaries, as it endlessly expands. The hugeness; when we try to think of it our foreheads and temples feel a great swell; with full understanding the shell of the mind might explode into oblivion. Big Bang. The pieces do fit, each belief a piece of the puzzle.

Wrestling with so many lives can weaken whole body, hope is to strengthen the soul spirit, or world human soul, who moves on to other realms of existence at the end of each waking, to dream again. Intelligence was created to continue reaching out, to always the More, outward expanding. Bodily ties weaken its potential to reach on and outward, and so possibility of real learning, not memorization of mundane dribble of daily regulated 'life'; trivial pursuit. Peace could be, realized; made real, thought out.

Coming through many lives of Ages, our spirits are tired, hungry for rest, peace. We hear voices of all pasts, gone now. We want to make a future echo of our Selves. Our Now is history and future in the making. Think about it. Make it so Number One!

Holy Bible, Torah, Quran
written by philosophers,
translated by simple minds.
He seeks to make permanent,
what came to him;
the laws of the Universe as he interpreted, defined them.
His name no one knows but his Self,
the Word of God, Faithful and True.

We believe a black hole in the universe to be sucking all energy in; a vacuum. We believe Dark eats the Light. If I say: 'Light consuming Dark', do you hear me saying: 'Light is consuming Dark', or 'Dark is Light consuming'?

Many words come out of mouths of moderns; words with no depth of meaning, only superficial images used to manipulate certain response, reaction, impression. This new Art, Selling of products, regardless of what the customer wants, needs, or desires.

In the Book of Revelations two witnesses are spoken of. If any one tries to harm them fire comes from their mouths. They have tongues of fire, those who speak truth. Truth that causes such fear pain to guilt ridden Psyche, it draws weapons or drugs itself, self destructs, with the excuse that Life is Suffering.

So, this dragon jabberwocky frightens men of the City. We enter chaos before following time will be. Fiery dragon breath, in defense and protection of Mother Earth, is a hope we have today of regaining our power, remembering from where we came and where we may go. We progeny of the Cosmos must mediate toward balance and peace, if we are going anywhere; in between we forget; in between is civilization and HisStory. In between are Johns' and Marys' eyes glued to the clock, waiting to get it over with.

Does life have room for the work-a-day world, 9-5, Monday through Friday, with weekend escape? Sabbath reserved for tokens to God. All a ruse, a successful deception. We have lost our connection with the true necessities of life, what truly sustains us.

Empty rituals. The 4th Commandment says to remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. A reminder to remember life's cycles, periods of activity and rest, and meditation on the time of accomplishment. On the seventh day the creator rested.

It seems primary law of psyche, and psychic energy, is equivalent to primary law of nature: Change and Diversify. Psychic energy, when stagnant, means death. Like tides, psyche is always in process of ebb and flow, ocean meeting shore, wake meeting sleep. Ebb and flow is nearly at a standstill, stagnation; or point of transition. Reading about mythological heroines and heroes who made a terrifying journey to land of the dead to be reborn again into a higher realm, gives less solace in this day and age. Seeking for a 'higher' realm has become more like a never ending nightmare inhabited by human beings of ill will, a wrathful god who wreaks vengeance on those who don't pay attention to Him, blessed be He. There are no facts but a whole lot of evidence. Puzzling evidence.

Evolution of consciousness is a very difficult art of learning ebb and flow. Timing is of great importance, synchronicity, path of least resistance. As I Ching says, movement by devotion is natural and spontaneous.

To fully understand evolution of consciousness is to have fully experienced it in one's Self as a living, breathing process permeating everything. Intellectually grasping concept of individuation as one piece of process; one piece as un-stunted ego function.

We must listen, keep listening to all different ways, looking for how and where they join; the missing link we have not seen yet, that stands between, not in some remote past. It is us! We are potential Gods. Gods in training.

This body, our mask; living masquerade. Our brain a separate body being of another dimension, at least one more in conjunction with this one. Our brain, unmasked, resembles alien being, strange features. Brains ingest and absorb different energy forms, as beings of another dimension, making conscious thought from impression. They are us more than we see, much more than our bodies, these organism sensory receptors. We come and go. There must be something somewhere else where we Be also; unmasked.

What Moses found behind a burning bush may have been a new technology, a forge and tools being created to blast commandments into stone. How impressive. But just another dream, passing myth. We must learn again, being as responsible as we can for all aspects and impacts of our Being, with counsel not from man, but truth-values laid down by Universal Law, the same commandments Moses laid down, tainted with time and distorted beyond recognition of any true meaning, by man. Age of Patriarchs, the age of manmade laws attributed to God, by divine revelation, has been in force for approximately 4000 years. Its purpose is power to sway all to One Way.

Religious fanatics are like Nazis. Laws do not work to bar them from intruding door to door, into places they have no business, or right to solicit, and which does not allow a person to seek and find.

He builds the road of His City all One Way in the wrong directions.

Dragons, according to Taoists, were symbolic of the Way, the central truth of their philosophy, which revealed itself momentarily only to vanish into mystery.

Flows and currents of archetypal energy occur over æons of time, as Dragon lives forever, and Goddess has been watching travelers on the path, though few moderns notice her existence there in her stony silence. Her eyes seem closed. She looks inward.

Moat was Egyptian goddess of law and order, and above all 'Truth.' She had no face, because he did not recognize her. Justice is blinded, she sees in the dark.

First known court of justice in the world, according to D.W. Griffith, was in Babylon. Babylonian justice according to Code of Hammurabi, protected the weak from the strong.

Issue is no longer

You're in the army now.
You'll never get rich

Laws of man are too restrictive, needing to be humanized, made humane. So many laws have nothing to do with actual crimes. Laws broken by people who are not criminals, but who question laws having nothing to do with crimes. Revolutionaries.

Revolution means only 'Change to balance Equilibrium'! The Prime Directive. Make it so Number One.

I Ching says that "reverence is the foundation of true culture." – Chên, hex 51
